

LOW MOISTURE KILN-DRIED CUSTOM LUMBER

Each piece of Tolko T-DRY Low Moisture Lumber is kiln-dried to target a 12% moisture content. T-DRY Lumber has a consistently low level of moisture throughout its entire length and width, making it ideal for a wide range of applications such as CLT, millwork, and fascia. Tolko's lumber mills have the ability to dry to precise customer specifications.

Target moisture content of 12%: T-DRY Lumber products are kiln-dried to reach a targeted moisture content of 12% resulting in a consistently dry product throughout.

Common applications: Cross Laminated Timbers (CLT), millwork, fascia.

Tolko packaging: Tear-resistant woven-poly bags protect Tolko T-DRY Lumber against moisture and contaminants during shipping.

Uniformity and strength: Builders choose T-DRY Lumber for the uniform appearance and superior strength-to-weight ratios.
